

Name _____

Read and draw.

When Billy was six months old
all he wanted to eat
was bananas.
'He'll start to eat other food soon,'
said his Grandma.

When Billy was two years old
all he wanted to eat
was bananas.
'He'll grow out of it,'
said his dad.

When Billy was three years old his mother tried to give him peas in his bananas.
But he only ate the bananas.
'Oh no!' said his mother.

When Billy was five years old,
he went to school.
He ate banana sandwiches
for lunch every day.

When it was Billy's birthday party, Billy's mother knew what he wanted.

Learning focus

Comprehension

Instructions

Have children read the sentences in the boxes. They can draw a picture for each sentence.

Talk about*How are your pictures like the pictures in the book? How are they different?*

Name _____

Here is Billy when he is grown up.

Write about what Billy is like as a grown up.

Learning focus	Writing/composition/going beyond the text
Talk about	What is Billy like? Has he changed from when he was a boy? What have you written about him? What might Billy do now?